Are You Living at Your Full Potential?

Everyone has potential. That includes you. The common phrase 'God-given potential' rightly suggests that potential is innate. We are all born with it. It's a wonderful gift that comes inside each 'package,' free of charge or merit. Just like we all have fingerprints, everyone has potential expressed in at least one personal, unique talent or ability. Some have more than one.

But first, let's take a quick journey back in time – when you were ten, or twelve. When you believed that you'd make a unique mark in the world using your personal talent. Back then, you weren't distanced from your talent. And though you may not have called it 'talent,' you knew it and sought it out.

Between then and now, how did your childish clarity fade? When did you start listening to the world around you, and ignoring the voice within? How did you start becoming suspicious of your talent, and mindful of the 'need' to keep it under tight leash?

In our 2020 Catalogue, you will find books that can help you connect with your potential, and hone your talent. You will 'meet' authors whose writing and communication talents will entertain, enlighten, provoke, inspire, and open doors to new worlds.

Enjoy.

Paused Lives

How to Flourish, Dream, and Get Your Life Back into Play Again

Connie Kivuti

We all encounter unexpected, peculiar circumstances at some point in life. We are thrust into a paused mode. Life seems to stagnate, or at best only go around in cycles. We may feel like the walls that protect us are crumbling under a rising tide and the waves beating around us.

This is a book about courage and commitment during trying times. It is about how to take stock, realign priorities, take charge and action to bring our lives back into play again.

Africa's Enigma and Leadership Solutions

Tokunboh Adeyemo

Although Africa is a major source of some of the world's most utilised minerals and precious metals, it is the least developed and its vast population lives in utter hopelessness. The continent sags under colossal debt due to inept, reckless and corrupt political leadership. This is enigmatic. In Africa's Enigma and Leadership Solutions, the author calls for a new paradigm: prophetic leadership that is transformational. He debunks myths about leadership and postulates that to overcome the continent's malignant problems, the culture of leadership that is problem-solving must take root.

He is widely published and is the General Editor of Africa Bible Commentary.

Is Africa Cursed?

A Vision for the Radical Transformation of An Ailing Continent

Tokunboh Adeyemo

Africa's story is heartrending. It is the sad account of the long history of a people who have suffered from slavery and colonialism, and continue to suffer wars, genocide, poor governance, starvation, poverty, HIV and AIDS, coups and counter-coups, child trafficking—to mention only a few. This gloomy picture begs the question: "Is Africa cursed?" In this book, the author conveys a winning message—one of hope for Africa. He unwraps Africa's place in the Bible, wards off superstition and advocates Christians' active engagement in transforming Africa.

So Many Leaders ... So Little Leadership

Beyond the Power of Position Lies the Price of Leadership

John W. Stanko

True leadership is not about getting power and position. It's about becoming a servant. In real life, leading others is much more complex—its part preparation, part perspiration and part inspiration. John Stanko outlines how to develop a leadership philosophy that includes all three.

Management

A Biblical Approach

Myron Rush

What is your mode of management? Most Christian leaders will answer one or two ways: gleaned from college or work and gleaned from theological training and ministry. The problem is, what the first can lack in biblical principle, the second will often lack in biblical practicality. In this updated classic, Myron Rush gives excellent counsel—biblically principled and biblically practical—to those who have been called of God to lead and manage others.

New Living Translation (NLT)

Student Companion Bible (SCB)

The goal of any Bible translation is to convey the meaning of the ancient Hebrew and Greek texts as accurately as possible to the modern reader. The New Living Translation is based on the most recent scholarship in the theory of translation. The challenge for the translators was to create a text that would make the same impact in the life of modern readers that the original text had for the original readers. In the New Living Translation, this is accomplished by translating entire thoughts (rather than just words) into natural, everyday English. The end result is a translation that is easy to read and understand and that accurately communicates the meaning of the original text.

Trinity of Sin

Yusufu Turaki

Many African Christians can't explain what sin is, how it affects people, or how it came into the world. The best they can offer is a mix of popular opinions, traditional views and guesswork--far from what Scripture teaches. Drawing on his understanding of Africa's traditional beliefs and social and spiritual values, Turaki explains the Scriptural teaching about the origin, nature, effects and power of sin and God's solution in terms that make sense to Africans.

Test of the Tribal Challenge

Shel Aurenson

Every boy's dream is to become a man, and every girl's dream is to become a woman. Different cultures practise different rites of passage. For Mato's Kikuyu tribe in Kenya, becoming a man means getting circumcised after a soak in freezing river water at dawn. For Owino's Luo tribe, it's the pulling out of six lower teeth. But it is Dean Sandler's turn to become a man that provides the greatest adventure. The Rhinos have to accomplish Twelve Tasks of Manhood, each specially crafted to test and build courage and endurance.
